1. Policy

Regular and reliable attendance at work is a fundamental principle of the employment contract and the highest possible levels of attendance are an essential requirement. Frequent short-term absences can be disruptive to effective delivery of services. Whilst Onchan District Commissioners (“the Authority”) have a duty of care to employees who are unavoidably absent due to ill health, the Authority has an obligation to take reasonable steps to address the effect that unacceptable levels of absence.

Personnel who are absent due to sickness will be treated sympathetically and every effort will be made to assist recovery and safeguard employment. It has to be recognised, however, that the loss of working days through sickness absence can result in a significant cost to the Authority which can include, for example, costs associated with arranging absence cover, as well as the additional pressure such absences place on colleagues.

2. Purpose

The purpose of this Policy is to ensure that Line Managers and employees understand the contractual and management authority underpinning the procedures for managing sickness absence; that Line Managers and employees understand their responsibilities in relation to the procedures; and to define the support that will be given and action that will be taken where an individual’s level of attendance gives rise to concern.

The procedures set out below ensures there is consistency and fairness in the management of absence and accurate records are maintained.

3. Scope

This Policy applies to all employees who are employed by the Authority whether full-time, part-time or limited term.

4. Privacy

The Authority’s Privacy Notice describes how personal information about you is collected and used during and after your working relationship within the Authority and what legal basis there is for gathering and retaining that information in accordance with the Data Protection Act 2018, including the General Data Protection Regulations. A copy of the Authority’s Privacy Notice is available on its website or from the office of the Chief Executive/Clerk.

5. Definition

For the purposes of this Policy, long-term sickness absence is a single absence of 20 or more working days.

6. Key Principles

To demonstrate the Authority's commitment to ensuring the highest possible levels of attendance:-

- All Line Managers will have the responsibility for recording, monitoring and managing sickness absence.
- Records of all categories of absence must be kept to facilitate effective management, monitoring and identification at an early stage of individual and organisational absence patterns.
- The concept of Sick Leave assumes a return to duty and the full provisions of the relevant Sick Pay Scheme only apply if there is likely to be a return to work.
- All employees will have a responsibility to make every effort to achieve the highest possible level of attendance and to obtain authorisation for all absences and to comply with the provisions of their Sick Pay Scheme.
- Employees who have health issues that impact on work may be required to attend for Occupational Health Assessments if requested by their Line Manager. They will be supported, wherever possible and appropriate, by reasonable workplace adjustments, within the resources available to the Authority. Employees will be expected to adhere to advice given by these services to maximise recovery and fitness for work.
- Where an employee is found to be working or indulging in activities whilst purporting to be absent due to sickness, which are likely to be inconsistent with the reason for absence and/or which are unlikely to be conducive to recovery, the disciplinary procedure will apply.

7. Procedures

7.1 Absence Notification

You must notify your Line Manager as soon as possible but no later than one hour after your normal start time.

You are expected to:-

- make contact personally by telephone - only in exceptional circumstances should someone else make contact for you;
- give details of your sickness and if possible indication of when you are likely to return to work.
- if your Line Manager is unavailable, you must contact the office of the Chief Executive/Clerk.

Failure to report sickness absence within the agreed timescale will result in it being treated as unauthorised absence and may lead to sick pay being withheld and/or disciplinary action.

Management of Sickness Absence

You must keep in regular contact with your Line Manager during your sickness absence, the times and frequency to be agreed with your Line Manager at the start of the absence.

While the reporting requirements provide for employees to regularly update Line Managers during periods of sickness absence it is a key responsibility of the Line Manager to ensure regular contact is maintained. If no contact has been made by the employee after the first day of absence, the Line Manager should make contact to ascertain the reason for absence.

7.2 Absence Documentation

For periods of absence of 4 days or more an SC1 form must be completed and submitted to your Line Manager who will forward it to the Incapacity Benefits Team.

A medical certificate ("Sick Note") from a Doctor is not required for absences of up to 14 days inclusive.

For periods of sickness absence of 8 or more calendar days a Sick Note must be obtained and submitted to your Line Manager. A copy will be placed on your personal file and the original forwarded to the Incapacity Benefit Team.

It is important that each Sick Note relates to the period commencing immediately after the expiry of the preceding Sick Note. Days not covered by a Sick Note will not attract sick pay and may be treated as unauthorised absences.

If you wish to return to work within the certified sick period, you must obtain a certificate from your GP to confirm that you are fit to return to work at an earlier date than that specified on the original Sick Note.

7.3 Recording Sickness Absence

- For long term sickness complete Sickness Declaration Form (Appendix 1& 2);
- For short term sickness complete Sickness Declaration Form (Appendix 2).

7.4 Sick Pay

Details of sick pay for which employees may be eligible are set out in the Written Statement of Terms and Conditions of Employment. In all cases, eligibility to sick pay requires full compliance with the Absence Notification procedures and provision of appropriate certification.

Calculations for sick pay will include all days of absence including weekends and public holidays if they occur within a period of sick absence. Only those weekends or public holidays occurring at the beginning or end of a period of sick absence should not be included or reckoned.

During a period when the employee is on Sick Leave and eligible for full sick pay, a deduction from pay will be made equal to the amount of Incapacity Benefit payable by Incapacity Benefits, so that sick pay is not greater than normal working pay. When the employee is eligible for sick pay calculated at half normal pay, the employee must provide evidence of benefits received so that half pay combined with the benefits received do not exceed full pay.

Management of Sickness Absence

Line Managers will ensure that employees are given no less than one month's notice as to when they will progress to half or nil pay.

7.5 Occupational Health

If your frequent short term or long-term absence(s) is/are a cause for concern, then your Line Manager may refer you for medical advice. In this event it is a condition of your employment that you attend a consultation carried out by an Occupational Health Adviser when required to do so, particularly if you are absent for prolonged or frequent periods.

The discussion between you and the Doctor is confidential. The medical advice provided to the Authority will include such information as is necessary to assist in making decisions about the management of your absence/attendance. Decisions may be in relation to your ability to undertake your normal duties, any adjustments that might be required and the prognosis regarding further absences/return to work.

The Authority may also seek medical advice from your GP with your consent.

Advice received by the Authority about you will be treated in the strictest confidence.

7.6 Return to Work

You must give your Line Manager, advance notice of your intended date of return to work wherever possible.

If your Line Manager has concerns regarding your fitness to return to work, you may be asked to obtain a certificate of fitness for work from your GP which should state the date you can return to work.

Regardless of how long you have been absent, when you return to work your Line Manager will arrange a return to work meeting to discuss your sickness absence with you. The purpose of this discussion is to ensure you are fit for work, give you an opportunity to discuss any problems which may be a factor in the absence and brief you on what has happened while you have been absent.

You will need to complete a Sickness Declaration Form (Appendix 2).

7.7 Short Term Sickness Absence

The Authority recognises that people will occasionally have short term sickness absence.

Frequent short-term absences and/or any pattern of absence will be reviewed by the Manager and discussed with the employee.

Where an individual's level of attendance gives rise to concern the Authority's Capability Procedure will be implemented.

7.8 Long Term Sickness Absence

During periods of long-term absence your Line Manager will agree with you how and when you will keep in touch, for example by telephone, e-mail and/or visits to your home at agreed times e.g. when Sick Notes are due. The purpose of maintaining contact is to monitor your well-being and progress so that appropriate support can be given where possible, as well as enabling adjustments to be made to operational planning or workforce management.

7.9 Return to Work after Long Term Sickness Absence

When you are well enough to return to work, your Line Manager will meet with you to discuss how this can be supported. The discussions will take into account any medical advice received and will include:-

- your capabilities, for example in relation to full job performance;
- return to work to normal contracted hours or a phased return;
- any medication you are required to take after your return to work that might have side effects, for example tiredness; and
- any arrangements, additional support or adjustments to your duties, working conditions or environment that would help you to reintegrate into the workplace;

After your return, your Line Manager will:-

- monitor your progress to ensure that you are coping with the work and the day-to-day pressures of working life;
- ensure that your workload is appropriate, and you are not required to deal with a significant backlog of work caused by the period of absence; and
- take all reasonable steps to facilitate your reintegration into the workplace.

7.10 Phased Return to Work

Following a period of long-term sickness absence and in order to facilitate an early return to work consideration will be given to a phased return to work in consultation with the Occupational Health Adviser. This may include a change to working days, hours or duties, or a combination of some or all of these. A phased return will be for up to but not exceeding 6 weeks, unless there are exceptional circumstances.

Where the phased return includes a temporary reduction in working hours, Sick Notes for hours not worked may be required or accrued annual leave will be used for the hours not worked.

7.11 Continuing Long term Absence

There may be instances in which it becomes evident at some stage that a return to work is unlikely. The Authority will refer the employee to the Occupational Health Adviser to ascertain whether the criteria for ill health retirement are satisfied and if this is the case, the employee will be advised accordingly.

Where the criteria for ill health retirement are not met, employment may be terminated on the grounds of capability due to ill health. Before making this decision, consideration will be given to whether reasonable adjustments can be made to the employee's current role, or redeployment to another role within the Authority should this be available, on the terms and conditions applicable to that role.

The Employee has the right of appeal against the decision to terminate employment due to ill health retirement or capability due to ill health.

(The procedures for ill health retirement/termination of employment on the grounds of capability due to ill health set out in Article 31 of the Manual & Craft Workers Agreement 2015 will apply in the case of manual and craft employees of the Authority. The procedures set out in Stage 3 (Termination of Employment) of the Authority's Capability Procedure will to apply to all employees of the Authority who are employed under the National Joint Council (NJC) Written Statement of Terms and Conditions of Employment.

7.12 Accident/Injury at Work

You must follow the procedures for reporting accidents at work where the sickness absence is due to an accident or injury at work.

7.13 Sickness during Annual Leave

If an employee falls sick during a period of annual leave and the Line Manager is notified immediately, provided that the period of incapacity seriously interrupts the period of leave (i.e. 4 or more days of illness) and the employee produces a self-certificate or a Sick Note to that effect the period of illness should be recorded as sick leave and not as annual leave.

Periods of sickness spanning the end of one leave year and start of the next, will result in any unused leave being carried forward subject to the maximum permitted carry over allowance. Any unused leave in excess of the permitted carry over allowance will be lost.
